Med Ball Planned Friday March 12;- Holmes Band Plays

Annual Faculty Formal Takes Place at Currie Gymnasium

McGill's famed Medical Faculty tears the lid off its social season shortly with the announcement that the annual Ball will take place in the Sir Arthur Currie Gym on Friday evening, March 12. Chairman Bob Walker has indicated that Montreal's top orchestra—the Johnny Holmes aggregation—will play for the main dancing while an added attraction in the form of a rhumba band will supply music at intermission time.

Walker with his five-man committee has been hard at work in preparation for the major event for the sawbones and predicts that this year's dance will be "certainly as good and probably better than any previous Med Ball—and you know what that means."

Accommodate Internees

The tickets have been placed in charge of Bob Black with representatives from the various years handling the individual classes. Along with that, arrangements have been made to accommodate an indicated enthusiastic response from interns at the local hospitals including the Montreal General, Children's, Royal Victoria, Reddy Memorial, Homoeopathic and Jewish General hospitals.

The table arrangements will be along usual lines, at least under present plans, according to Albert Cloutier who is in charge of this section as well as tickets sales for first year.

Med Motif

A tricky medical motif will be the main decoration and special emphasis has been laid on new lighting by Leo Lafleche who doubles as ticket huckster for the second year. Larry Hampson will take charge of the entertainment of patrons and of ticket sales for third year. Al Knight will be in charge of publicity.

Tickets are now on sale and if any extra are available the first choice will go to Dental and Law students with whom the Meds held the Ball in previous years. Price of tickets is $5.50 each.

The list of patrons is not yet complete.

Frat to Hold I.S.S. Dance This Saturday

By REDVERS WARD

The big I.S.S. Dance is drawing near. This "Saturday Informal" featuring the Westernaires and McGill's own Barbara Dornbush is coming up in three days at the Union Ballroom. All proceeds of the dance which is sponsored by the Zeta Beta Tau Fraternity, are to go to the International Students Service in aid of needy students all over the world. The charge is only $1.50 per couple.

A fine evening program has been laid out by the committee in charge. There will be dancing in the Union Ballroom to the music of the Westernaires and also in the Reading Room where a nickelodian will be installed. Refreshments will be served in the Grill Room and added entertainment will be another feature in the Ballroom.

At the present time tickets are on sale in the Arts Building and at the Union. They can also be secured from hucksters who are busily roving about the campus with a pocketful of ducats. If you wish to go and have not been approached, information can be obtained by contacting Julian Pearson, chairman of the ticket committee.

In order to make certain that all students are aware of this affair, letters have been sent to all fraternities, sororities and campus clubs of the University.

The evening should be a highly enjoyable one as the Westernaires are reputed to be one of the top orchestras of Montreal and their music will assure those present of an evening of dancing pleasure.

Remember this is I.S.S. week and all proceeds of the dance go to this very worthy cause. Attend the affair, have a wonderful time and in so doing help out a less fortunate student.

Labor Must Be Well Treated In Paper Industry

Canadian industry, to progress satisfactorily, must be concerned with the problem of industrial-employee relations, declared Dr. T. H. Robinson, manager of industrial relations of the Canadian International Paper Company, who delivered the sixth in the series of lectures on pulp and paper in the McGill Chemistry Building on Tuesday.

"Time spent in acquiring an understanding of men, of what makes them tick, and of the arts of getting along with them is time well spent," the speaker said.

"The dollars and cents value of an industrial relations program cannot be measured. Every company and the industry collectively are aware of this program's importance and are on the alert to improve it.

"The establishment of the industrial relations section by the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association is evidence of this interest. It is significant of the importance which is attached to industrial relations that a discussion thereon is included in a series of lectures that are primarily technical and scientific in scope."

Wage Statistics Given

Dr. Robinson said statistics disclosed that the average hourly rate in the pulp and paper industry is just over $1, a rate exceeded in few industries. In point of view of weekly earnings pulp and paper employes top all others in Canada, the average being $51.49 a week as of December last, while the next industry provided weekly earnings of $49.19.

"The last few years have been relatively prosperous for the pulp and paper industry, and the companies have been far from niggardly in sharing this prosperity with their employes. Should the time ever come when the prospects of the industry are not as good as the experience of the past few years, management will have to exert the greatest care not to purchase uninterrupted operation today at the expense of financial instability tomorrow.

Documentary Classic Will Be Shown Today

The McGill Film Society will present its weekly program today at the usual hour—5 p.m. in Room 250 of the Biology Building. The presentation today, "GRASS" is one of the earliest documentary films. Produced by Merian Cooper and Ernest Shoedsack it has taken its place as a classic. The Baktyari tribe in Persia—a people numbering some fifty thousand with herds of half a million or more—depend upon their cattle for existence, the cattle need grass or the people perish. Shoedsack has followed this primitive, pastoral tribe on one of their annual treks, recording by means of this document the story of an exodus into a promised land . . .

McGill Coed Debaters Defeat Queens Team

The First Intercollegiate all-woman debate at McGill this year was held in the Union Ballroom today. McGill co-eds defeated Queen's on the affirmative side of the subject "Resolved that present-day comics are detrimental to the normal development of the child".

Debating for McGill were Alice Currie and Pat Moore. Upholding the negative side for Queen's were Glenys Bradford and Joan Carruthers.

COMICS TOO FANTASTIC

Chairman Marilyn Richardson introduced the first speaker for the affirmative who based her argument on the assertion that a child's phantasy and imagination need to be developed, but not through the melodrama of the comics where the fantastic was stressed. Comics were condemned as emphasizing jealousy pain and cruelty, and as not providing the true passage to life which a child's reading should.

The first speaker for the negative, Glenys Bradford, stated that comics did not constitute such a great part of the child's life, and that as comics had been popular since 1890, no great effect had been noticed on today's adults.

Pat Moore, for the affirmative, cited the specific types of comics, and their effect on the child reader. Effects such as poor grammar, constant fear, petty crime, and petty nationalism were stated as instigated by suggestions such as the child receives from the "funny papers."

RIGHT TRIUMPHS

The second debater for the negative, Joan Carruthers brought up the fact that even the best literature had horror scenes equal to present-day comics, and yet were not considered horrible enough to be abolished. She pointed out that in all the tales that comic books told, Right triumphed in the end, and that throughout the child certainly associated himself with the hero. Lastly, the comic book stage was represented as only a phase which is finally outgrown.

The affirmative delivered a rebuttal, after which the judges—Mary Stephens, Roland Laprairie, and John Monk—awarded the decision to the upholders of the resolution. The later comment of the judges was that the debate had been very interesting, and they were glad to see the beginning of intercollegiate all-woman debating.

McGill-Vermont Debate Today

Another encounter in McGill's busy debating program will take place at 1 p.m. today in the Union Ballroom when a team from the University of Vermont upholds the affirmative of: "Resolved that it would be in the interests of both Canada and the United States to become one nation."

The Vermonters will be represented by Barbara Clark and Guy Page both of whom are experienced intercollegiate debaters. The McGill team will comprise of Helene Brais and Hapoch Bordan.

This debate between McGill and the University of Vermont is an annual occurrence here dating back since before the last war. The debate is open to the public and the eating of lunches will be in order during the entire meeting.

NFCUS News

Pres. Harwood Visits McGill this Saturday

Bob Harwood, the National President of NFCUS will be at McGill on Saturday, 28 February, as part of his visit to all Canadian Universities. Here is a chance for all interested people to meet Bob, and to discuss matters of interest.

On the 8, 9, 10 of February, there was an executive conference of National NFSUC at Hamilton, and so Bob, who hails from the University of British Columbia, combined this with a visit to all Universities. This visit on Saturday will be his second visit to McGill this term as he met the SEC and the local Committee of NFCUS on February 16th on his way to the maritimes.

Previous Decisions

At the executive Conference of NFCUS at McMaster University were the four Vice-Presidents representing the four main Canadian groups—the Maritimes, English and French-speaking central Canada, and the Western region—as well as the secretary and Bob Harwood, the president. As part of their activity, which was to implement the decisions of the National Conference of NFCUS, they gave McGill more fully all scholarships available to Canadians all over the world, and arranging student exchange with foreign countries. It was also decided at this time, to hold the next national Conference of NFCUS next Christmas recess at Ottawa.

With the responsibility that McGill now has of investigating scholarships and exchange for Canadian Students all over the World, the McGill Committee of NFCUS is faced with an immense amount of work. To do this it will be necessary to write and read many leeters in foreign languages especially French, German and Spanish. Here is a chance to do something practical with your latest language, and incidentally line yourself up for a trip or schooling overseas. Anyone who can help is urged to get in touch with the following: Sue Ketchum, Nancy Weaver, Jeff Turner, Joan Morrison, or Tom Bird. If you don't know these people come to the meeting at 1.00 this Friday in the NFCUS Room.

For further information on Bob Harwood's visit to McGill on Saturday, see Friday's Daily, or see Tom Bird. For information on trips to Europe this Summer contact either Tom Bird or Jeff Turner.

The 'New Look' To Be Featured Friday at RVC

The new shapes of fashion will be shown Friday at 4 p.m. in R.V.C., featuring the three very definite silhouettes—Bell, Column, Triangle. The show will open with the introduction of the Bell silhouette, four Ballerina skirts and the popular Gibson Girl Blouses.

Around The World

This show will be unique in that it is planned to take the spectator around the world in Canadian Styles. There will be smart suits for the Easter Parade, three-piece suits for your trip to Lake Placid, and Black Magic Lounging Pyjamas for after 5 informal events. If it's Westward Ho on a jaunt to Jasper, the Column silhouette is the pencil straight classic suit—it's over the hurdles in trim fitting Jodhpurs. Away to England with a gay but usable plaid taffetta rain coat. Cycling through Merry England in the latest in "peddle pushers" — garden fresh prints for afternoon tea and crumpets . . . decolete taffeta formals for that dinner date.

If you are planning a trip this summer or just being a "home town gal," the Fashion Show will be your guide to the "New Look."

Tickets at 50c are on sale at R.V.-C., in the Arts Building, and from class representatives.

Dawson Labour Club Hears Roback in Talk

The Students' Labour Club at Dawson held a meeting last night featuring Mr. Leo Roback, Research and Educational Director of the United Textile Workers of America. He spoke on the subject—"Quebec Labour Under Fire."

Mr. Roback's speech outlined the history of trade unions, the centralization of labour, and also gave a description of the inside scenes in a strike. The talk closed with a description of the situation in Unions at present in comparison with their future plans. A discussion period brought the evening to an end.

Lit. Society Features Speech on Its History

The St. James Literary Society is holding their weekly meeting in the Engineering Institute, 2050 Mansfield St., tonight at 8.15 p.m. Mr. F. C. Newman will give a talk on "The Society in Retrospect."

Mr. Newman, Secretary-Treasurer of the Society, has prepared a manuscript on the history of the society which gives an account of its beginnings and eventual rise to its present status in the cultural life of Montreal.

Dentists Defeated In Fight to Keep Member on Council

Resolution Passed Demands Return of Price Controls

Student Society fees were in effect raised by two dollars when a motion to amend the Student Society's Constitution was passed at its meeting yesterday in the Union Ballroom. Also passed was a resolution urging the Canadian Government to reimpose price controls and one supporting the existence of the Student Veterans' Society.

It was the first official meeting of the Student Society since its decision to lower the quorum from 500 to 300 was taken last December.

Graduate Students

The first amendment, passed without any discussion, changed the constitution so that Student Society fees are raised from $10 to $12. It also included a clause which called for Graduate Students to pay five dollars a year, $3.50 of this to go to the McGill Union and the remaining $1.50 to go to The Daily.

The other amendments changed the representation to the Students' Executive Council and made changes in the order of business. "Cushing's Manul of Parliamentary Procedure" was adopted as the official authority on the procedure to be used at all meetings of the Student Society.

Short Meeting

At the beginning of the meeting, which lasted only forty-eight minutes, it was decided by a vote that the candidates for President of the Students' Society should not make brief speeches at that time. This procedure was suggested to Ed Ballon, Student Society President, by several people before the meeting and he therefore called for a vote on the subject.

During the debate on the amendment to change the representation to the S.E.C., two amendments were put forward. One called for a separate representative for the Faculty of Dentistry while the other asked for a separate representative for those in Physical Education. Both amendments were later defeated after considerable discussion.

Price Controls Necessary

The resolution on Price Controls, moved by Dan Nerenberg and seconded by Betty Ann Henley, asked the Government of Canada to "roll back prices to a reasonable level and to immediately reimpose price controls and subsidies." It gave as reasons for demanding this action the assertion that the continuingly rising cost of living "has seriously affected the possibility of many students completing their education."

The second resolution passed was the one presented by Wydham A. Strover, President of the Veterans' Society, and seconded by Jean Pouliot. It urged that "adequate financial provision be made by the Students' Executive Council "for the operations of the Veterans' Society at least through the session 1948-49" and that the Society continue its existence during that period.

French Staff Plans Trip To Huberdeau

Another French weekend is being planned for the period, March 5-7. The program will include skiing for beginners and any one else who may already know how. Other items which have been popular in the past include French sing-songs, dancing and eating—especially eating. No one who has not tried Mary's Bavarian cooking can fully appreciate this last item. The locale will be at Otter Lake House in Huberdeau which has become famous among the French students for its excellent accommodation.

The price of $10 includes train fare and hotel accommodation. All students wishing to attend must get in touch with Miss Bodier, room 54, Arts Building, no later than Monday noon, March 1 (see the French Dept. Notice Board). Students are advised to get their reservations early since there is only room for 25. Oh yes, you have to speak French all week-end.

AUDITIONS FOR BROADCAST

Auditions for the reading of poetry from this year's FORGE will be held this Friday, February 27, at five o'clock in the CJAD studios, 1191 Mountain Street. Both male and female readers are needed for the broadcast taking place on March 3rd from 10:15 to 10:30. Professor Arthur Phelps will be the moderator for this programme which is being produced by Arthur Garmaise.

SLC Poll

Students Oppose Tram Fare Increases; Favor Subways

A total of 1,206 students participated in the Student Opinion Poll conducted yesterday by the McGill and Dawson Student Labour Clubs. An overwhelming majority of those polled were in favour of freezing of tram and bus fares, construction of a publicly owned and operated subway for Montreal as well as restoration of price controls and the rolling back of prices. The four questions asked on the poll were as follows:

1). ARE YOU OPPOSED TO ANY INCREASE IN TRAM AND BUS FARES?
Total answering: 1,206.
YES, 84.57%; NO, 15.43%.

2) ARE YOU IN FAVOUR OF A PUBLICLY (MUNICIPALLY) OWNED AND OPERATED TRAMWAY AND BUS SERVICE IN MONTREAL?
Total answering: 1,153.
YES, 69.73%; NO, 30.27%.

3) ARE YOU IN FAVOUR OF THE IMMEDIATE CONSTRUCTION OF A MUNICIPALLY OWNED AND OPERATED SUBWAY IN MONTREAL?
Total answering: 1,155.
YES, 80%; NO, 20%.
On this question a number of students expressed preference for a mono-rail system.

4) ARE YOU IN FAVOUR OF RESTORING PRICE CONTROLS ON ESSENTIAL COMMODITIES AND ROLLING BACK PRICES TO THE LEVEL PREVAILING BEFORE PRICE CONTROLS WERE DISCONTINUED?
Total answering: 1,173.
YES, 75.96%; NO, 24.04%.
On this question one student expressed preference for rolling back only the price of beer to five cents per glass. On the same question 13 of those polled wanted price controls restored but were opposed to a roll back of prices.

Many students felt that the poll could have been conducted even more efficiently if the questions, particularly the last, had been phrased in such a manner as to allow a more varied expression of opinion. The poll committee of the S.L.C. welcomes such and all other forms of constructive criticism and hopes that by even wider co-operation S.L.C. polls of campus opinion will become an established feature, which will show student opinion on topics of current interest.

Carnival Lament

The carnival darling was chosen;
The fateful deed was done.
The mistress of all that's frozen
Was crowned, and ruled the fun.
Torches rent the moonlit night,
While skaters whirled and sped.
Throughout the City hearts were light,
But elsewhere hearts had bled.
The eye was host to gleeful cries
And sights before unseen,
But Dawson was a camp of sighs . . .
Fair Martha was not the Queen.

A Melodrama in 1 Act

Scene: any Faculty Fireside anywhere.

(A student enters the crowded room. Immediately an awesome silence falls over the assembled faculty members, while the student is subject to baleful glares. One professor is heard retching in a corner; another leaves the room with his coat. The student speaks.)

Student: Hello everyone.

A Chem. Prof.: Give him some coffee to shut him up.

(Student accepts coffee.)

Student: Thanks ever so much. I really appreciate th . . .

Chem. Prof: Yes, yes, we know. Your gratitude is touching. Well, what do you want now?

Student: I merely want to meet the faculty socially, like it says on the sign.

Chem. Prof.: Well now, isn't that peachy. Take my hand and I'll introduce you around. See that short gentleman over there by the bar?

Student: The little chap with no lower jaw?

Chem. Prof.: Yes. That's Doctor Centigram of the Physics Department. At present he is developing a new type of yo-yo top that works on a principle found in Ohm's Law. Isn't that shocking? Get it? Shocking? Haw haw.

(He slaps student viciously on back. The student obligingly rolls on the floor with laughter.)

Doctor Centigram, I want you to meet one of our students.

Dr. Cent.: Hello, stupid.

Student: Hello, sir.

Dr. Cent.: Take him away. Take him away before I get sick.

CONGRATULATIONS!

The proposed changes in the constitution of the Students' Society were all passed at yesterday's meeting with an overwhelming majority of the votes in each of the three major cases of amendments.

Students are to be congratulated for turning out in numbers large enough to exceed the required quorum of 300 by 125. This shows clearly enough that student interest has at last been aroused on the important question of a raise in students' fees to the S.E.C. The clear-cut majority with which the motion for amendment to the constitution was passed also indicates that there are still McGill students who are interested in their executive council.

The increase in fees from $10.00 to $12.00 a year will now enable the Students' Society to meet their arrears and finance the odd hundred clubs and societies which are now active on the campus. Eight thousand students will indirectly benefit from the passing if this amendment, for lack of a quorum at yesterday evening's meeting would have forced the S.E.C. to cut down on its expenses so that many campus clubs would have suffered from lack of student interest.

A second point on yesterday evening's agenda was the redistribution of representatives on the S.E.C. If it proved nothing else, the ratification of the amendment by a majority of the students present does prove that roughly five per cent of McGill undergraduates take an active interest in student affairs. Lack of sufficient quorum in previous meetings of the Students' Society seemed to demonstrate a deplorable lack of interest on the parts of students. It is to be hoped that future meetings of the Students' Society will be attended by a sufficient number of students. Should student interest in student affairs wane, the students themselves would be the only ones to blame for any sluggishness in student administration.

Two resolutions were also adopted at the meeting; one dealing with the increase of the cost of living throughout Canada, the other having to do with the Student Veterans' Society.

That the near totality of those present chose to vote regarding the resolution to the effect that the meeting go on record as petitioning the government to roll back prices to pre-war levels, also shows interesting signs that students at large take an active interest in national affairs, which indicates a healthy attitude of mature interest in Canadian affairs.

Also passed overwhelmingly was a resolution to extend the activities of the Veterans' Society over the coming academic year. The resolution also called for an extension of S.E.C. financial support to the Society throughout the year. In this instance also, nearly every student voted.

It seems only fair to us that, as long as approximately fifty per cent of the students on this campus are veterans, there should be a representative body looking after the interests of that group. The Veterans' Society has done much in the past, and is now ensured of being able to do much in the future, regarding such problems as McGill student veterans' opinions on the increases in D.V.A. allowances, and other questions which are likely to come up next year.

Veterans and non-veterans alike voted for the motion, and non-veterans' interest in it shows, again, lively concern for problems affecting the student body generally.

Although the fact still remains that yesterday's quorum was a sharp contrast to last Wednesday's unjustified lack of attendance, student interest seems to have awakened at last and shows signs of a growing intensity. This is encouraging, and nothing should benefit the student body more than a preservation of this healthy attitude throughout the next academic year.

LETTER FORUM

Freedoms

The Editor,
McGill Daily,
Dear Sir,

The Student Labour Club is to be commended highly for its sampling of student opinion on matters of current interest. These polls when conducted in the old bourgeois-deveationist manners are often unsatisfactory because of their factional-counterrevolutionary exclusion of the fifth and sixth freedoms. These errors have been avoided in true democratic and non-imperialistic style by the Student Labour Club.

The fifth freedom is divided into two parts: The freedom to stuff and the freedom to repeat. The neo-fascists will search in vain for any padlocks on the ballot box; it is open to all. Similarly are the Trotskyite beasts confounded when they seek to find any restriction on the democratic right to vote as often as one wants.

The sixth freedom is the freedom from scrutiny. When the ballots are counted there will not be any reactionary rotten-liberals present to terrorize the progressives who are to be in charge of the tallying of the votes.

Yours faithfully,
UNCLE HOE.

Information

5665 Cote des Neiges Road,
February 24, 1948.

The Editor, McGill Daily.
Dear Sir:

Through the medium of The Daily I should like to volunteer the following information which may be of value to the individual who forced the padlock on locker 88 in the McTavish Rink dressing room, made off with the blue kit-bag containing my complete hockey outfit, and gave my faith in humanity a shattering blow.

1. You may obtain the hockey stick which goes with the rest of the equipment by phoning me and making suitable arrangements. The hockey stick is of no use to me since my D.V.A. allowance does not permit me to buy another pair of skates.

2. The yellow sweater will, I trust, prove very serviceable since my wife knitted it, and the white sweatshirt, which was also in the kit-bag, will wear very well since it is brand new and of the best quality.

3. The poor condition of the hockey gloves can be overcome by wearing woollen gloves under them. Unfortunately, I was wearing the woollen gloves so they were not in the locker with the rest of the equipment. Your best bet would be to steal another pair of hockey gloves in better condition than mine.

4. Should the skates, size 10, not fit do not under any circumstances sell them for less than $11, for I paid $14 for them and used them only three times.

Yours sincerely,

Movies I Would Rather Not See

Obsessed

By Randy Phillips

This great epic of the torture of the mind is produced by a herd of high-grade imbeciles for the leisurely delight and educational enjoyment of this great nation. The star, June Crawlforward, is first met as a young technical assistant to a lecturer in Psychology at a great university. Being exposed to the lecturer, and his subject, she feels herself torn with conflict about some obscure point . . . love, or some such emotion, is involved. It is really quite vague.

The primary symptoms are identification, rationalization, and projection, complicated by regression, repression, obsession, retention, suspension and finally precipitation. This last takes the form of sticky globules of glycerine delicately placed to resemble tears.

Frustrated in every emotion by all the best camera-men and lighting technicians in Hollowwood, June fast becomes neurasthenic, neurotic and hysterical, followed in dreary succession by amentia, apathy, and, towards the end, catatonia.

The producers have very kindly supplied a series of white-coated ushers armed with syringes of scopolamine for the benfit of those patrons wishing to make statements of their past conflicts.

During the course of the film, June manages to find time to become involved with three men and a little boy, to maim two old ladies and murder a street-car conductor. She also sings a few songs from the hit show "O'Hoolahan's Thunderstorm".

Ultimately, June ends up in a hospital in Shanghai, under the care of a kindly Latvian doctor (played by Victor Moore), who convinces her stepuncle that she can be cured. "Ah yes!" says he, tapping his pincenez against his thumb, "She can be cured. But it will only be through the force of your faith, and prayers and patient understanding. This child has been through hell in the past thirty-seven years, and there is more to come. . . ."

At this point I was dragged out of the theatre, screaming and foaming at the mouth. I could stomach no more. I have since joined that famous fraternal organization, Alcoholics Unanimous.

Drama Club to Present Original Play

By SY YASIN

The first original three-act play to be undertaken by the McGill Players' Club, is now in the final stages of rehearsal and will be presented on March 10 and 11, in the Union Ballroom.

"My intention in writing "Through the Pale Door", Stanley Mann, the author told me, "Is to create an intermingling of realism and fantasy, constructed on the framework of an unusual and original plot. Though the basic theme is dramatic the play is not devoid of humor—I hope," he added with a slight smile. Although he wouldn't admit it, I got the impression (after reading the script) that the play is a criticism on the subjectivity of present day authors. Stanley went on to say how gratified he was that this campus drama group had decided to produce his effort, and he feels that judging from the high standard of previous Player's Club productions, the play is in capable hands.

The enthusiasm which the author feels for the Player's Club is reciprocated by Paul Horton, the Club President to Stanley Mann's play. "Though the play is a good one, there are several other factors which motivated our desire to produce it," he told me. "We feel that Canadian theatre companies ignore the works of young Canadian talent all too often, and as a result our national art suffers." He hoped that the success of this play will encourage other groups to follow their example.

William Boswell who starred in last term's campus production of George and Margaret, once again takes a leading role in "Through The Pale Door." Mr. Boswell who has appeared in several plays produced at Bishop's College School finds that taking part in an original production is a demanding task. "It is more difficult working in a new play, because the actor is giving a first interpretation of a role never done before," he, said. "He isn't governed by any preconstructed patterns, and the success and failure of the role depends for the most part on him."

No efforts are being spared to make this one of the finest plays ever produced at McGill. A most experienced director has been obtained in the person of Mrs. Michele Ferguson. This is Mrs. Ferguson's first venture in the English Theatre, however she has been active in French Theatre in Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec City.

For the first time to our knowledge, dancing will be featured in a Player's Club production. For the original choreography, the Club has been most fortunate in obtaining the services of Miss Elizabeth Leese. Miss Leese, who is actively connected with the famous French Theatre group Les Compagnons, will have the difficult task of producing a dream sequence in which the thoughts of the hero evolve into a fantastic ballot set to the music of Rimsky Korsakov's Capriccio Espagnol.

The settings for the play will, to say the least be unusual. Gordon Webber, an instructor at the School of Architecture has designed the sets and is working on their construction. These sets are so designed as to help create and follow the changing moods of the play entirely. Their essence is simplification in which the emphasis is placed on the character and on lighting, they are constructed so that the presence of the actor himself is vital to create the required mood.

Great care was taken to choose experienced actors in this term's major production of the club. However, one newcomer will make her debut in the Player's Club Production. This will be Joan O'Connell, an attractive first year Arts student who has shown great promise in rehearsals.

Dennis Farzet, is a third year pre-med student from Toronto. Dennis has taken part in many school productions and was a member of the Toronto Theatrical Group, he has also appeared locally in "George and Margaret."

Patricia Orange, who is strangled in Mann's play, comes from Welland Ontario, where she was active in high school dramatics.

Well known to Montreal Theatre audiences Vivian Slavouski, who took part in recent Canadian Art Theatre Productions of "The Wizard of Oz" and "Lice Through the Looking-Glass" and Randy Phillips, of the Red and White Revue (1947) who rounds off a well balanced cast.

JOAN O'CONNEL and PAUL HORTON find BILL BOSWELL'S tale amusing in a period of rehearsal relaxation. Bill and Joan are co-starred in the Players Club's production of 'Through the Pale Door' by Stanley Mann. Paul is also taking part in the play and is the president of the club.

A Review

Little Symphony Gives Impressive Performance

On Tuesday night the guest conductor of the Little Symphony of Montreal was Fritz Mahler. Mr. Mahler's extremely precise manner of conducting has an assurance that is most gratifying.

C. P. E. Bach's Concerto for Orchestra in D major, with which the programme opened, was given an interpretation that made the allegro moderato seem a little rigid, a little too confined by its form, but the third movement sparkled briskly and vivaciously.

Schubert's Symphony No. 5 in B flat major is very Mozartiam, though Schubert's personal idiom is very clear in the second movement, which Mr. Mahler took a little too slowly, so that it had a tendency to drag. However he dealt spiritedly with the menuetto, but showed a degree of fussiness in doing so. His clipped attack in the fourth movement, though a trifle rushed to start with, brought out the best in this music.

The Adagietto for Strings and Harp from Gustav Mahler's 5th Symphony is a broadly lyrical work of great beauty. After an initial weakness the orchestra expressed the expansiveness of this piece very successfully under Mr. Mahler's guidance.

The concert closed with Beethoven's Second Symphony in D major, which Mr. Mahler conducted energetically but in a Mozartian spirit. The adagio which forms the first movement seemed rather long-winded, as if Beethoven was worrying his material to death—but possibly this was due to the oppressive heat in the auditorium of the Hermitage.

PRESIDENT, WOMEN'S UNION

'Bunny' MacDonald

Pen Sketch

The woman elected to fill the post of President of the Women's Union must have contact with and interest in women's activities on the campus.

Bunny MacDonald, the girl with a happy smile and bright titian hair, needs little introduction to most women at McGill. We have met her through the M.W.S.A.A. where she served on the council last year and is now section representative. With the Red Wing Society, Bunny's face was a familiar one and all freshettes of 1947 will remembered friendly and helpful guidance on the reception committee. Bunny has also been one of the members-at-large in the Women's Union, and through this work she has become acquainted with all the responsibilities and duties entailed in the position of President.

Bunny came to McGill in 1945 after two years' service in the Wrens. Her influence and activity in the various organizations on the campus and her enthusiasm and cooperativ spirit certainly qualify her for the position of President of the Women's Union.

Platform

During these past years the Women's Union has made remarkable advancement towards integrating the various womens activities on the campus, but there is still much to be done to unify these diverse social, cultural and vocational interests.

Now is the time to establish the facilities of the Women's Union as a centre through which one may have every available opportunity

Joan Radley

Here's a girl with boundless enthusiasm. Nor may we stop there, for this enthusiasm is unfailingly followed by work, work and more work, until an undertaking, be it on a grand scale or be it a triviality is completed. Yet, to work with Joan is to discover that success to her is measured, not only by the act of seeing a task through, but, more important, by the amount of fun into which hard work can be transformed. The members of the Athletics Nights' chorus line who so willingly practiced under Joan's able directorship, will jump to agree with us, we are sure.

We feel that we know our candidate well. We have peeked into her personality with a view to telling you, our fellow students, what qualities of leadership are active therein: we like what we saw. Beyond Joan's obvious capacity for good work, we find a natural poise which guides her while in the company of her superiors with the same ease with which she joins her peers. A glance at her share in campus activities during the past few years is ample proof of Joan's versatility — she will lend a hand anywhere — nor are her droll wit and pretty smile ever far from the scene of action. Thus for us a well-rounded personality and a warm genuine heart put Joan Radley on top.

Anyone who has ever done anything around the campus will have seen Jerry—either on top of a ladder hanging decorations in the Gym, training the Skating Group on the Hollow Rink, or meditating on the R.V.C. House Committee.

Jerry has executive experience gained in the M.O.C., in R.V.C., and as chairman of the Women's Union Dance Committee. She has, also, wide interests, ranging from dancing in the Red and White Revue to trail clearing and cooking for the M.O.C. Her initiative and enthusiasm cover all branches of Campus Activities, and she is well fitted to fill the positions of President of the Women's Union and a member of the S.E.C. These posts need a person with enthusiasm, ability, and imagination. Jerry has all this and valuable executive experience too, so let's ——

Platform

I would like to express my appreciation to those who nominated me to the position of President of the Women's Union.

"The object of the Women's Union is to provide for the social, cultural and recreational needs of its members". There are in existence already on this campus enough clubs and societies to satisfy the interest of every woman student. These organizations should be encouraged and publicized so that more students would realize the value of these opportunities and become sufficiently interested to take an active part in them.

ITS UP TO YOU!

This page of The Daily is largely devoted to the platforms submitted by candidates for the top campus posts which will be contested March 3. These campus-wide elections involve the whole student body; the vote will determine leadership for the term 1948-49.

The formulation of a "platform", in which the respective candidate outlines the path which he plans to follow in the event that he receives the majority of the votes cast, appears to be an outgrowth of the increasingly complex political and social organiaztion of our society.

Obviously, it is an impossibility for the candidate to become acquainted with the majority of his constituents; and the variability of opinions and outlooks suggest that in the event of mutual cognizance, the voter and the candidate may not necessarily find a basis for agreement.

And so the candidate performs the formal task of listing his ideas, his opinions, and any constructive action he feels is necessary for the proper administration of a specific post. And ideally, one strives for the separation of personality or subjective likes and dislikes from the more fundamental attitudes and opinions of the individual—what he "stands for."

The latter ideal situation, however, is hard to come by. We must not allow personality to become more important than the ideas of the man. For the inevitable result is the blind following of some individual candidate rather than the rational, sound judgment of the ideas and aspirations of the individual. This cannot, obviously, result in wholesome, constructive government.

On this page, one will find photographs and policies of the candidates who will be contesting the top campus positions in the elections of March 3. With careful and judicious consideration of the platforms by all students, we feel certain that a commendable choice will be made.

And one cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of a maximum vote. For it is only through complete participation on the part of all students, that a veritable picture of campus opinion may be obtained.

The forthcoming elections are the climax of a busy, full year of student activity. We can assure a magnanimous departure by exerting ourselves to vote for him—or her—whom we feel has most adequately expressed, in his platform, the best abilities for the position which is being contested.

—A.T.

Election Data

Following is a complete schedule of voting procedure to be observed at the forthcoming elections of representatives to the Students' Executive Council, as formulated by the Election Committee of the Council.

In the following instructions the expression "Faculty Representative" or "Representative" is used to designate the undermentioned:

1. Ann Ryan, Women's Union
2. Bruce McAusland, Engineering
3. J. Fyfe MacDonald, Medicine
4. Leslie Gill, Dentistry
5. Ken Howard, Law
6. Charles Pelletier Theology
7. Ross Cavey Commerce
8. Margaret Hurley, Music
9. Jean Pouliot, appointed for Arts and Sciences.

The Representative from the Women's Union is responsible for the voting arrangements for all the women.

In making provision for the voting in those faculties where there are few women she may make arrangements with the Faculty Representative concerned to have the women use the same facilities as the men.

Women's ballots will be printed in red; men's in black.

The committee in charge of the elections will assist Mr. Fletcher in preparing the sealed ballot boxes, the ballots and the voters lists for each Faculty.

Each candidate will name a scrutineer and submit his name before 4 p.m. Monday, 1st March. Candidates for the Women's offices will submit the names of their scrutineers to the Representative from the Women's Union; others will submit names of their scrutineers to Mr. Fletcher's Office.

The Chief Returning Officer is Charlie Pelletier.

Each Representative is the Returning Office for his own Faculty and is, subject to the instructions set down in this memorandum, responsible for the administrative arrangements within his own faculty. He has authority to appoint the minimum number of Assistant Returning Officers he considers necessary for the efficient conduct of the election. He will submit the names of these assistants to Mr. Fletcher's Office before 1 p.m. Tuesday, March 2nd.

THE DAY OF THE ELECTIONS

It is the responsibility of each representative to see that the boxes, ballots, and lists are picked

PRESIDENT, STUDENTS' SOCIETY

Len Beaton

Pen Sketch

Leonard Beaton, who was recently chosen by the SE.C. as Vice-President of the Students' Society, has been a participant in many extra-curricular activities while maintaining an honours standing in Economics and Political Science. An ardent member of the M.O.C., he has not neglected outdoor sports, which he greatly enjoys.

Len has twice been a member of the McGill inter-collegiate debating team and was awarded a Gold Key "for outstanding debating excellence." Besides being Prime Minister of the Model Parliament of which he was a co-founder, he has assisted on the Athletics Nights program and given of his time to work on the Winter Carnival.

His capabilities and competence have been felt in numerous activities which make up the life of McGill giving him that depth of understanding and range of friendships which can only be derived from active personal participation.

Len, who has served on the S.E.C. as representative of Arts and Science since his election last term, knows today's problems of campus life, and in seeking satisfactory solutions, he displays a realistic and level-headed attitude.

Platform

There has been in the past year, a great expansion of activity on the campus and this must be consolidated and developed along sound and constructive lines. In this regard, I pledge myself, if elected, to devote my greatest energies to the following basic problems:

Athletics

1. The Winter Carnival and Athletics Nights should be continued; and as a member of the Athletics Board, the President of the Students' Society should do his utmost to ensure their continued sponsorship and support by the body.

2. Expansion of the intra-mural athletics program and adequate coverage for it in The Daily.

Students' Executive Council

3. Encouragement of Freshman Reception on the scale in which it was carried out last year, with increased emphasis on the intramural athletics program.

4. Co-ordination and rebuilding of the "Gen" nights program.

5. Encouragement of the McGill Debating Union Society to insist on revision of the Inter-University Debating League in which there is presently an outmoded basis of competition.

6. Expansion of the staff of The Daily, and the introduction of a special column devoted weekly to the activities of the S.E.C.

7. The establishment of committees of students interested in a particular aspect of the S.E.C.'s activities, with Council members as chairmen. These Committees would ease the pressure on representatives, and bring well-considered recommendations before the S.E.C. for their approval. The Finance Committee, particularly, could be greatly assisted by four or five Commerce students interested in studying the complex problems attached to the administration of the Students' Society funds.

Dawson

8. There must be no interference with the Dawson Students' Council by the S.E.C. In fact, positive assistance should be given and an interest taken in their affairs. There should be more trained

Robert M. Gill

Robert M. Gill, a first year law student, is uniquely suited for the post of President of the Students' Society for many reasons. The wide variety of experience gained in five important campus posts, such as that of the first President of the existing Arts and Science Undergraduate Society and President of the McGill Union, make him the most stable campus officer currently seeking election.

Not only did Bob attend to all the routine duties of these posts, but also inaugurated many new policies—such as the formation of the Arts and Science "Gen Nites," and the first post-war University New Year's Eve Party, and in the past year has been a most diligent and valuable member of the S.E.C.

As President of the Union, Bob sunpervised last year's complete redecoration, and suggested the Union "New Room" that has helped to ease the pressure of swollen post-war club enrollment.

Bob has a host of friends made in his innumerable hours of work for the student body, and these coupled with his amiability, will make him a President capable of friendly relationships with every campus group. His sincerity, his enthusiasm, and his serious attitude to his academic career, qualify him as a representative that the Royal Institution could be proud of.

Platform

In view of the fact that student elections show an increasing preference of the part of the electors for experienced candidates, I feel that this platform should begin with a short resume of previous positions held on this campus:

1. Class executive of Arts and Science 2nd and 3rd year.
2. Vice-Pres. of A. & S. 1945-46.
3. President A. & S. 1946-47.
4. President McGill Union 1947-48.

In addition, membership in the Scarlet Key, Freshman Reception 45-46, various dance committees, and Intramural sports.

This record and the interests gained during the promotion of such activities as "Gen Nites" and the recent concert series, and constant contacts with clubs and societies operating in the Union, allow me to look forward with confidence to the many duties of compromise and co-operation that invariably fall upon the President of the Students' Society.

If elected President, I propose to attempt the following points:

(1) To inaugurate a consolidation of the council's budget—calling for complete statements of finances from all clubs and societies before Nov. 1st, and an immediate placing of the Students' Society on a solvent footing, in line with steps presently being taken by the SEC.

(2) To maintain the present sent-up of the Winter Carnival, as being a worthwhile student undertaking. Further to draw upon the knowledge of this year's Carnival Committee to the fullest possible extent.

(3) To inaugurate a music committee, which will aid such groups as the Choral Society, Red and White Revue, the new student concert series, and press for a continuance of such undertakings as the forthcoming "Beggars Opera".

(4) And as has been suggested by former producers of the Red and White Revue to investigate fully the question of hiring an orchestra in order to ensure the complete success of a show, the

Jon is a veteran of four years' service in the R.C.A.F., having left college early in 1941 to volunteer. Two of those years were spent in the Tactical Air Force in Europe. The experience he obtained during this time spent in Normandy, Holland, Belgium, and Germany, Jon regards as an invaluable part of his education.

Since Jon has been at McGill he has been very active in campus activities. Many of us have been in constant contact with him, in these activities, and have been impressed by his industry, his enthusiasm, and his ability to co-operate.

As President of the S.E.C. he will be a good ambassador for McGill and a representative at all times of the ideals of university life.

Platform

In order to draw up my platform, I have sought to determine what are the main problems on the campus. Through discussion and inquiry, I have concluded that the suggestions which follow are not only necessary, but can also be put into effect.

(1) BOOKSHOP

McGill is one of the few universities in North America which has not yet set up a BOOK SHOP for the sale of text books at cost price. Such a shop should result in lower prices and better service. If Dawson College, Macdonald College and the Engineers can have Book Shops, why not the rest of McGill?

(2) DAWSON COLLEGE

(a) It is my belief that Dawson College is never considered sufficiently when any affair is planned. I therefore recommend that a member of the Dawson S.E.C. be made a regular voting member of the McGill S.E.C. for the purpose of co-ordinating the planning of both bodies.

(b) I shall intercede strongly with the university authorities to urge that those students at Dawson about to enter second year Engineering and who wish to take their course at McGill, be allowed to do so.

(3) VETERAN'S SOCIETY

I will lend my support, both publicly and privately, to the Veteran's Society in their efforts to have the living allowance for single veterans increased. The Society is both effective and necessary, and it deserves the fullest support of the student body as a whole.

(4) CAFETERIA

It is my intention to investigate and improve the operation of the cafeteria and grill room in the Men's Union, where the trend has been towards less food and worse meals for more money. I suggest that the cafeteria be run by the University on the same basis as the one in Hart House in Toronto.

The fine program of social activities which the S.E.C. has conducted this year must be commended. However, I believe it is necessary to complement this program with the suggestion I offer in my platform.

Finally, I wish to declare that I will conduct myself in complete independence of any club, clique or machine on this campus. I will attempt, as much as my personal capacities will allow, to bring together the various groups into which our campus is now divided, so that they will work in unity, harmony and mutual tolerance for the greater good of the University.

I have no hesitation in saying that in whatever position Jon finds himself his integrity will stand him in good stead. He has an honest forthrightness that inspires trust. His maturity guarantees at all times an adult approach to problems, and his independence of mind gives assurance of fair judgment.

Since many of his activities have been centered around the Union, he has become extremely familiar with its many aspects. Combined with his initiative, sincerety and the important fact that his popularity makes him easily approachable by all students, Jack Crepeau would be of immeasurable value to the Students' Society as a whole as well as to the leaders of the various clubs and societies with whom he has been intimately associated in previous years.

Platform

Let's be frank about this position. It is not one which requires a great deal of applied energy. Rather, someone is needed to serve on this executive as an adviser, to keep the staff aware of what students want and to defend basic democratic principles such as freedom of the press.

To advocate a new Union now is ridiculous; homes are needed, so lets build houses first. To propose to solve all the problems, and suggest that "genuine" coffee should be served in the Grill Room is to suggest the impossible. An effort can be, and should be made in that direction, but one can't expect perfection for a few years yet. We can hope and try.

Cooperation is necessary with whoever is elected and students will obtain better student government by meeting the candidates, hearing their platforms and then dropping a ballot in the box—and every ballot counts.

"Freddie" Hubscher, a first year Law student, comes to us as a Bachelor of Arts graduate from Sir George Williams College and can be considered as a relative newcomer to the "politico" battlefields of "Ye Ole McGill". In student government circles, he is far from being an unfamiliar figure.

While at Sir George, he was the elected representative of 3rd and 4th years to the Undergraduate Society's executive, the executive member in the Students' Council for a time, and stood for election to the Presidency in a two-way contest. "Freddie" is an accomplished newspaperman as well. Joining "The Georgian" as a cub-reporter, he rose from the ranks to News Editor, to Managing Editor and, finally, to the Editorial Board.

As a social-service worker, he has been attached to the Social Agencies of Montreal and has served as the Director of the Bancroft and Fairmount Summer Schools. Besides being an athlete and a scholar of no mean repute, Frank F. Hubscher has received several awards for outstanding leadership, war services, public-speaking and debating. His election will certainly be a valuable addition to the executive of the Men's Union. All in all, I might conclude in saying that "Freddie" is an all-around student and "one of the bays" in every respect.

Our McGill Union figures prominently in campus activities. To all students, it is a general meeting place and, as such, I feel that everything possible should be done to provide it with prudent administrators in order that it may continue to serve the best interests of the student body in general. The prime functions and responsibilities are purely administrative dealing with maintenance of the building and with the accommodation of clubs, societies, and student forums. To the implementation of such administration, I pledge my fullest efforts. To other members of the executive my utmost co-operation may well be assured.

It is on my record that I present myself to the electorate and I urge you to carefully consider my record and weigh it with those of the other candidates before casting your ballot. It suffices to say that, if elected, I shall endeavour, to the best of my ability, to support and encourage the cultural, social and economical activities of the Men's Union. If chosen, my aim will undoubtedly be to carry on the splendid and well done job of the retiring executive. Lastly, may I express my sincerest thanks to all those who, in nominating me for the Vice-presidency, have signified their faith in my ability to efficiently carry out the duties of such office.

(c) Each ballot will be initialled by the returning officer or his assistant, in the upper left hand corner before being presented to the voter.

(d) A (large) sheet of paper will be inserted in each box at closing time with the specimen signatures and initials of each returning officer who initialled ballots. These names must coincide with the list previously submitted by the faculty representative.

Conduct At Polls

(a) No attempt will be made by anyone to influence student opinion within the room where polling is held.

(b) The scrutineers will have the right to visit all the polls with which they are concerned.

(c) Any complaints as to irregularities should be reported immediately to Mr Fletcher at the the Chief Returning Officer. Subject to the discretion of the Elec- Union who will get in touch with tion Committee, complaints as to the election procedure will not be considered after 4.30 p.m., when the boxes will be opened.

All Faculty Representatives with one assistant (not necessarily one of the Assistant Returning Officers) and all the Scrutineers of the candidates will report to the Board Room at 4.10 p.m. to assist in the counting of ballots.

Any doubtful ballot will be referred to the election committee whose names appear below. Their decision will be final.

The President of the Students' Society will have a casting vote only.

Representative, Athletics Board

Gilles Gagnon

Platform

The post of representative to the Athletics Board requires not only constant attention and administrative ability but also a complete knowledge of all sports activities on the campus. I believe that, with the experience I have gained through participating in various phases of Campus activities, I am qualified to assume these obligations of office.

This student representative is a member of the Athletics Council and the Athletics Board, and if elected I will strongly press for a new and vigorous athletics policy here at McGill. It is on my record that I present myself to electorate. I ask you to consider this record and to weigh it with those of other candidates. I ask my fellow students to consider election promises but only in the light of proven ability to execute those promises.

(a) I would see our Intercollegiate and Intra Mural Athletic activities comparable to certain American plans.

(b) I would sponsor better cooperation between Dawson College and McGill on Athletic grounds.

(c) I would urge the continual of athletics Nights and Winter Carnival but at a lower admission cost.

(d) I would see that the band be reorganized as it will now come under the S.A.C.

(e) I would get a better distribution in the sports programme and provide a better training schedule.

(f) I would fight for a better sport publicity on The Daily.

If elected, I feel confident that with the experience I have in sports organizations at McGill, I shall be able to fulfill the trust of those who have nominated me.

ACTIVITY

Faculty representative to the Intramural Athletics Council, 1947-48.

John W. Pitts

Platform

No individual can govern by himself the policy of the Athletics Board, but he can exert a strong influence to implement certain reforms. If elected, I would do my utmost to introduce the following points on behalf of the S.A.C.:

(a) The printing of an Athletics News sheet with schedules and results of intramural athletics to supplement the "Daily" coverage of these activities.

(b) Student seating to be in the centre sections rather than the north end of the Forum for McGill hockey games, as is the case with the University of Montreal.

(c) Less non-University activities in the gymnasium.

(d) A student voice in the building plans for the Swimming-Pool-Rink-Auditorium.

(c) University sponsored ski excursions similar to that of the Winter Carnival.

(f) Reduction in the price of football programmes.

(g) More University support and backing for intramural sports.

Secretary, Women's Union

Nancy Solomon

Platform

As a candidate for the position of Secretary of the Women's Union I can only say that I will give my time, interest, and co-operation in supporting the activities and policies of the Women's Union.

I realize that for the most part this position means carrying out the particular duties of secretary and doing many of the routine jobs involved in putting the program of the Women's Union in action.

I would encourage and support the continuation and expansion of (a) the Freshman Reception program along the lines of that presented last fall, (b) the work of the Social Service Committee and any program possible in the field of international relief, (c) cultural activities as carried out by the clubs and committees sponsored by the Women's Union, such as the Women's Art Committee, Women's Science Club, etc. (d) the new Women's Union Gen Nites and other vocational guidance programs, (e) the program of social activities —dances, teas and buffet suppers with more informal get-togethers and (f) the program of the M.W.S.A.A.

I would particularly like to see more people taking part in these activities, sharing in the planning as well as in the participating.

In conclusion, may I thank all those who nominated me for this position, and if elected I will do my best o fulfill its obligations.

Caroline E. Smith

Platform

The Secretary of the Women's Union has not only a routine job to fill efficiently and well, but also an important role to play as a member of the Women's Union Executive. In this capacity she has the opportunity of adding actively to the harmonious working of the Executive.

I can only promise that, if I am elected, I will work with serious effort to fulfill the duties of the position and to further the interests of McGill women on this campus through constructive cooperation with other executive members.

My sincere thanks to those who placed their trust in me through nomination.

press for the following reforms:

1. A REAL investigation into the food situation existing in the McGill Union, and positive steps to improve the quality of the food and to lower prices of meals.

2. A broadening of the basis of Union activities, designed to make more appeal to members of all faculties and to encourage their participation in the Union program of activities. The Union should be a focal point of interest for all students; at present its appeal is primarily to Arts and Science students.

3. The establishment of a co-operative Book Store for the sale of BOTH old and new books, in order to lower the cost of this important item in the student's budget.

4. Additional interest in, and consideration for the problem of Dawson students. The tendency to date has been to regard Dawson as a temporary problem and to adopt purely "stop-gap" measures for the alleviation of the troubles besetting the St. John's branch of the University; if, as now appears likely, Dawson is to continue in existence for a few more years, a more permanent and long-range policy is required to deal with its problems.

If elected to the office of President of the McGill Union, I would endeavor to run the Union on sound, conservative, business principles and to represent the interests of the student body as a whole, and not those of any particular segment of the campus.

Temple—P. 3

Ernie has held himself aloof from campus political groups and, if elected, can be depended upon to serve the best interests of the campus as a whole. We believe that his wealth of experience gained in service, civilian and university life and his mature judgment, together with his undoubted personal integrity, make him the ideal man to serve as president of the McGill Union.

Secretary, McGill Union

Kenneth C. MacKay

Platform

You, as students of this University, should not be satisfied that the McGill Union is fulfilling its essential function as the centre of undergraduate life. If you are, then cast your vote for the present secretary. But if, on the other hand, you feel as I do, that much can and should be done, not only to improve existing facilities, but also to better the Union, I would ask you to consider the following proposals which I undertake to effectuate, should I be elected.

1. More tables and chairs will be placed in the upstairs lounge. There is no reason why students who bring their lunches should have to eat them while sitting in drafty landings, simply because there are not sufficient chairs in lounge.

2. A wider range of periodicals to be placed in the lounge and the placing of at least one French language newspaper on the reading stands.

3. Improved food. The food which is presently served in the cafeteria is extremely poor, and I am unconvinced that a non-profit organization, such as the Union, cannot serve better prepared and more abundant food. Further, the sandwiches, cakes and what is laughingly referred to as coffee, which are sold in the grill, could hardly be of poorer quality. During the last year, these conditions have worsened. I would bend every effort toward rectifying this outrageous situation.

4. A supply of playing cards to be kept for the free use of those who wish to play bridge.

5. Introduction of Muzak in the cafeteria. This popular form of music could, for an insignificant price, be installed in the cafeteria. It has met with popular approval in downtown restaurants, where its subdued volume and melodious effect have been much appreciated.

I promise that, if elected, I shall work to the utmost of my ability to see that these badly needed reforms are accomplished. I shall also consider it my duty to give every assistance to any student who has a valid proposal for improving the service which the Union, properly managed, could offer to the students of McGill.

Alan M. Mann

Platform

The past year has seen a great many changes and improvements in the Union. The ancient institution has been given the "New Look" from Ballroom to basement. In addition to the bright new paint jobs throughout, the redecoration scheme included three attractive new floors at various levels, and the addition of the spacious "New Room" which has gone far towards relieving the meeting room congestion. The basement too has been revamped — providing more adequate facilities for NFCUS, Book Exchange, Undergraduate Societies and The Daily.

All this has been in line with the proposals outlined in my platform last year. There remains, however, a good deal of work to be done. The question of a P.A. system, for example—a prime necessity for the Union. This is being investigated at the present moment, and with proper effort, should be obtainable by fall.

Another problem is the proper organization of the various notice boards. This has certainly improved during the past year, but still leaves much to be desired.

The biggest single problem, though, seems to be the perpetually jam-packed condition of the Grill-room. I propose to secure smaller cabaret-style tables, and re-arrange the seating plan in order to give a modicum of breathing space, and yet allow everyone to be comfortable.

This past year has been one of the biggest and best in the Union's long history, and I pledge myself to another year of conscientious, efficient administration if elected.

Executive of the Women's. Union

For her experience, her enthusiasm, her athletic and executive ability, but most of all, for herself, I give you next year's President of the MWSAA — LOUISE MACFARLANE.

Signed:
AUDREY SEPHTON.
HOPE STEWART.
PEGGY WRIGHT.

MacFarlane—P. 3

Platform

In presenting this platform, I would first like to thank all those who nominated me.

If elected I shall endeavor to:—

1. Promote a greater interest in Inter-section sports by active publicity among the women students;

2. Improve MWSAA publicity both on the campus and in The Daily;

3. Divide the Council into permanent commitees to look after Publicity, Ticket Selling, Decorations, Refreshments, etc., so that there will always be an organized nucleus with which to work when we sponsor such things as the Previews, Skating Parties, etc.

4. To try and have a page on Athletics appear each month in "Miss McGill."

Finally, although I do not know what issues will arise next year, I will try at all times to represent the interests of the women students to the best of my ability.

Rowe—P. 3

Thanks to this year's executive, the Women's Union has an active position on the campus. Everyone will realize the extent of the work that they have acomplished, and will recognize the importance of continuing it next year. If elected, I will devote all my energy to work for the Women's Union in the interests of the students and the University.

coaches and athletic equipment supplied and tickets for McGill events made more readily available. No advance invitations should be withdrawn with flimsy excuses.

Dawson's organizations and teams should be accorded the respect which is given visiting Universities, while a positive interest should be taken by the S.E.C. in the activities and problems of the Dawson Students' Council.

Finance

9. Finances are the most important single problem facing the Students' Society this year. Reserves are seriously depleted. Economy is needed and a close supervision must be maintained over all expenditures on student activity. It will be more important than ever that great care be taken in the allocation of money and that as large a surplus as possible should be made.

The way in which this problem is to be solved depends on whether or not the Students' Society sees fit to grant the S.E.C. the extra two dollars per student that they have requested. Regardless of what course the Students' Society takes, reserves must be rebuilt, and, should I be elected, I shall consider that of the utmost importance.

Senior Hoopsters Gain Second Place Tie In M.B.L.

Davidon, Duford, Atkin Leading Scorers In 81-53 Red Victory

BY STAN GROSSMAN

In a wide open fast moving game, the McGill cagers moved into a second place tie with Central Y.M.C.A. Dominoes by downing the Army Gunners 81-53. At the time this story was going to press the Y.M.C.A. squad was engaged in a tilt against the Y.M.H.A. Blues. If the Blues, who are highly favoured to win, beat the Dominoes, McGill will move into a second place tie with the Central "Y" Club.

No sooner than twenty seconds had gone by, when Ken Taylor opened the score with a rapid-fire basket. Then the Gunners quickly scored another two-pointer which put them ahead 4-0. But that was the end of the Army's lead.

McGill Takes Control

For it was then that McGill took command of the game, taking a lead which they never relinquished. Within two minutes the Redmen scored seven points to commence an evening of scoring mania. At the end of the first half McGill held a commanding 37-19 margin. By then "Old Faithful" himself, George Davidon had earned thirteen points and Bob Duford had nine points to his credit.

In the second half the game continued at its fast pace, with Sammy Roth, who was scoreless in the first half, notching twelve markers. Don Atkin, who had one point at the end of the first half, added thirteen points in the latter half of the match.

The game was very fast moving, besides being high scoring. It was also very cleanly played, taking into consideration that the players were constantly on the move. Every player on the McGill Squad played steady heads-up basketball while for the losers Freddy Bridel, Ken and Vern Taylor proved to be the big guns.

Scoring Summary:

McGill—Roth 12, Fraser 3, Goldbloom 6, Davidon 19, Duford 16, Bloom 9, Atkin 14, Wilson 2.

Gunners—V. Taylor 14, Ken Taylor 17, Mel Taylor 3, Bridel 16, Barrowman 1, Burke 2.

DAWSON HOOP TILT

Steve Armstrong's Dawson hoopsters took the U. of M. aggregation into camp yesterday as they handed them a decisive 45-26 defeat in a fast, wide-open encounter at Dawson. Doing the main offensive play for the St. John's boys were Jim Shea and Bill Naves, both garnering an even dozen points, while Chevrette with 9 markers led the U. of M.

Auckland.—(CP)—The Auckland Transport Board recently installed on six street-cars "honesty boxes" in which they asked passengers to drop uncollected fares. Either the conductors are singularly efficient or the public's honesty was overestimated. Honesty-box collections averaged 18 cents a day.

Red Pucksters Face Carabins In Forum Tilt

McGill's game Senior pucksters bring down the curtain on the Intercollegiate schedule this Friday evening at the Forum when they face the cellar-dwelling University of Montreal Carabins. The game will be a do-or-die affair for Dave Campbell's charges as they must take the tilt and hope that the Golden Gaels of Kingston upset (and we really mean that) the league-leading Varsity squad. A McGill win coupled with a Quen's cop would result in a tie for first place between the Toronto entry and the Redmen, necessitating a playoff for the championship.

In the last outing between the two clubs at the Verdun Auditorium, two weeks ago, the Alma Mater six came out on top, shellacking the Carabins 8-2. The squads split in their other two meetings, both having won one apiece, McGill seems to be the hotter of the two, however, as they set back the strong Blue and White outfit last Friday in the Queen City, while the French-speaking squad was dropped into the cellar by the Kingston crew which failed to beat the Redmen in four league games this season.

Coach Dave Campbell will ice the same squad that handed the drubbing to Varsity last week-end, that is, with the exception of Ward Pitfield who suffered a shoulder dislocation last week. Rupe Rubins of the Inter squad will probably move up to replace him. The lines will be rearranged probably with only the Millar - Beigler - Hackett trio remaining intact.

For Art Therrien, Denis Lahaie will be between the pipes, with Denault and Crepeau on the defence in front of him. Little Andre Charest is also a great diminutive player on the Carabins.

SWAN-EE RIVER

GEORGE ATHENS is the gent pictured above who is slated to "fly through the air with the greatest of ease" tonight in his last meet under McGill colours. A Red and White diver for the last three years, Athens will compete in the meet for The Gazette Trophy, of which McGill is the defending champion. The Alma Mammie water babies will try to keep the Trophy tonight when they face swimmers representing the Y.M.C.A. and Concordia at the Central 'Y' Pool.

Jr. Hoopsters Drop First Playoff Tilt; Inters Lose

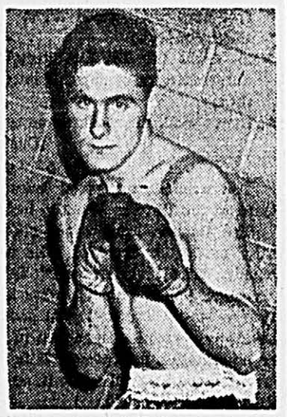

The McGill Junior basketball team went all the way down to the wire last night before they gave up a narrow victory, 52-49, to the Sir George Williams aggregation, in the first of a two game home-and-home total-points-playoff series. Playing a fast and hard driving game, the McGillians were led by Godel with 14, Baker with 13 and Segall with 11 points, but were unable to match the clever basket swishing of the Georgians whose Korchok with 13 and Tessenbaum with 11 paced their team.

The Intermediate 'A' M.B.L. McGill entry as well tasted defeat last night by a hair when they were downed in an exceptionally close checking game, 24-22, by the N.D.G. 'Y' hoopsters. Leading at the end of the first half by a 12-7 count, the McGill team was unable to keep the lead against a hard driving sharp-shooting 'Y' crew. High scorer of the evening was Frost of the 'Y' with 10 points while Moffat produced the most offensive payoffs on the Red team, gaining 8 points.

Muscle Power At Gymnasium This Weekend

In the greatest presentation of intercollegiate muscles since prewar days, the battling McGill Redmen will play hosts over this weekend in the Sir Arthur Currie Gym to Boxing and Wrestling teams from Toronto Varsity, Queens and the Ontario Agriculture College. This great extravaganza of fistic and grappling ability, that is to commence on Friday and carry through to Saturday, promises to carry all the thrills, stellar performances, fancy dans and dancing, rabbit punching on cauliflower ears, worthy contenders and "that clean-living boy from Nashappeekbog who always gives a great fight" that any Madison Square Garden or Forum card has ever given—without the fear of being partisan, political or being accused of blowing our top, we can honestly say "more."

The leather throwers from McGill have an enormous amount of fistic power on their team, as was exemplified in the recent Winter Carnival. All the bouts that they entered were won in a decisive fashion. Probably the leading member of the Red Battlers, certainly a boy with plenty of punch-throwing class and ring moxy, is Milt Orr the Intercollegiate Boxing Champ in the 147 pound division.

Milt Orr
"a terror"
MAULING MILT

Mild mannered Milt becomes a terror once you put a pair of gloves on his mits and surround him and another equally clothed fellow with ropes. He has the enviable record of having won 18 fights in a row in his three year association with McGill. This string was stopped this year in an extremely close fight down in the U.S., in which Chuck Tannel of the Coast Guard eked out a disputed decision by a one point margin in the judges voting.

The Redmen pack a lot more of potential sleeping powder in the flying pistons of John Heney, 140 lb. Intercollegiate champ; Bob Basset in the 125 lb. class and former Intercollegiate champ, and Frankie Creaghan, 165 lb. Intercollegiate champ. Griff Marshall does his leather swinging in the 133 lb. division while dynamic Lou Lanier, who did some powerful line work on the McGill rugby squad, will be carrying the Red heavyweight load into the ring.

John Granada who was a recent U.B.C. middleweight champ, will represent the Redmen in the 155 lb. class, while in the 175 lb. group it will be Ernie Kovacs, whose ring-wise experience in the last couple of years is expected to bring him through with the ref holding his hands on high at the end of his tussle.

GRAPPLING GUYS

Leading the McGill grapplers in their hopes for Intercollegiate honors will be Heavyweight champ Wally Kowal whose athletic ability is made use of as well by Vic Obeck during the football season. Certainly the man who enters the ring with the best record, and one so remarkable in fact that he usually is overlooked in publicity—for it is a foregone conclusion that he will be victorious, is Don Hillman in the 125 lbs. division who hasn't dropped a match in two years.

In the 190 lbs. section Joe Ouillette, last year's Intercollegiate finalist, and Tex Dawson a similar finalist in the 155 lbs. division, are expected to be around when the final awards are made. Rounding out the Red grappling team are such dependable performers in the grunt and groan occupation as Eddie Theriault in the 135 pound class, Andy Casgrain at 145 lbs., Bob Esmond at 165 pounds and Ed Walter who will enter in the 175 pound division.

Skiers Participate At Middlebury, Beauport Meets This Weekend

By SCHUSS

Intercollegiate skiing will be in the lime light this week-end with three McGill teams participating in out of town meets. The senior Redbirds and the girls squad will journey to Middlebury to compete in the Intercollegiate Ski Union Championships being held in conjunction with the Middlebury Winter Carnival. In the meantime the intermediate Redmen will be carrying McGill colors in the Canadian Intercollegiate skichampionships at Lac Beauport near Quebec City.

RESHUFFLING JOB

Reshuffled again after two disappointing third places in both the Dartmouth and McGill Carnivals, the senior team is expected to provide a serious threat for championship honouors. The jumpers will field the same four men including John Draper, winner at Dartmouth, John Houseman who placed second in the McGill Carnival, along with dependable Karre Olsen and Ted Pope, top cross-country racer.

BRUNEAU PROMOTED

Art Bruneau, former captain of the intermediates, has been moved up to strengthen the slalom and downhill department along with John Turner Bone, downhill winner in the intermediate meet at Ottawa two weeks ago. Starry Jack Griffin and Ted Graves, now fully recovered from injuries received at Dartmouth, will be the other McGill men in these events.

MIDDLEBURY STRONG

The host college of Middlebury, ISU champions of last year and recent winners at both Dartmouth and McGill Carnivals, are the premeet favorites with such four event performers as Johnny Valentine and Don Henderson. It was this team that wrested the championship from the Redmen, 1946 winners, at St. Marguerites last year. The green clad Dartmouth squad will also be in attendance along with St. Lawrence, New Hampshire, Maine, Toronto and Yale.

INTERMEDIATE MEET

Although weakened by promotions to the seniors, the intermediate team, present CIAU champions, has mustered an impressive aggregation for the Quebec excursion. Ted Kehoe and Don Smith, downhill and slalom specialists, head the list, while for jumping and cross country events, Jeff Hale and Bill Dawson are entered. Four event performers Owen Owens and Andy Hugessen complete the squad.

U. or M. SQUAD

U. of M. guided by McGill's ex-coach Chris Cribbon, are reported to be confident of capturing the trophy which their university donated, while Dawson College, sparked by class A skiers Ken Thomas and Ross Maxwell, both of whom have had a whirl with the senior Redmen, will be a strong contender. Laval itself has a first class jumping team, while University of New Brunswick skiers are reputed to be strong in all events.

New Fraternity Officers Decide Future Program

At the election meeting of Alpha Delta Chapter of AKK Medical Fraternity at 646 Sherbrooke St. West, Tuesday evening, February 17th, the following officers were elected for next year. All the following are students in the Faculty of Medicine either Med. 1, 2 or 3:

President: Mark M. Boss (Ottawa, Ontario).

Vice-President: John H. A. Lawrence (St. John, N.B.).

Treasurer: Arthur E. Stickland (Oakland, California).

Recording Sec'y: Harry Pitts (Vancouver, B.C.).

Corresponding Sec'y: Fred Lundell.

Chaplain: Conrad McKenzie (Vancouver, B.C.).

Historian: Robert McNeil (Weyburn, Sask.).

Marshall: Harold Lynge.

Warden: Edward Walters (Cambridge, Queens Co., N.B.).

Meetings to be held in the near future will fall on March 9th and 23rd and in the former it is expected that Dr. Rabinowitch will speak on "Medical jurisprudence" and at the latter Dr. Colin K. Russell will speak on "Psychogenic Factors in Neuro-surgery and Neurology." On March 12th from 7-10 p.m. a cocktail party will be held for members and their guests prior to the Medical Ball.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE

There is a chance that McGill and Toronto might pull a repeat performance in the closing stages of the senior intercollegiate puck race. Last year on the very last week-end of the season, Toronto, with the title within its grasp, blew one to Queen's while the Redmen were tying the Carabins. This enabled the Red and White clad ice-warriors to terminate the campaign on even terms with the Queen City crew. This coming Friday could bring about the same result should the locals trip up U. of M. as expected and the Gaels upset the applecart with a victory over the Blues. This may sound almost impossible, but it should be remembered that Varsity was heavily favoured for the contest last season. And this surprising turn of events took place on the ice surface of Varsity Arena where the Blues were reputed to be almost invincible. The stage is set for another reversal of form as the Queen's-Varsity clash is again slated to take place at the Toronto rink. However, it is not probable that lightning will strike twice in the same place this time. It is too much to expect of the lowly Gaels who seem to be weaker this year than last, and the Blues are hardly likely to blow another championship. Anyway, by stopping the Blues on their home ice last Friday, the Redmen went a long way towards wiping out the stigma of that humiliating 8-0 rout a few weeks back.

Since many of Montreal's eminent sportswriters choose to print the opinions of a local sportsman named Mush Davis in their columns and since his son, Mush Davis Jr. is a student of McGill University, your reporter has decided to emulate Messrs. Ferguson, O'Meara and Carroll by presenting the opinions of Mush Jr. to his readers. It should be noted that both members of the Davis family are sport experts in their own right. In a discussion the other day, Mush Jr. commented to this writer that Gerry Plamondon of Frank Carlin's Royals was one of hockey's most consistent scorers. And so, your observer composed the following verse in keeping with the new policy:

Frank Carlin
". . . Allan Cup Coach"

Gerry Plamondon
". . . Carlin's Royal Flush"

"Gerry Plamondon is his name
His average is a goal-a-game,
He's hockey's finest, so says Mush,
Gerry is Carlin's Royal Flush."

Speaking of Gerry Plamondon, this sharp-shooter predicted that he would score three goals in a game against the New York Rovers at Gotham City last Sunday and promptly netted a trio of counters to fulfill his prophecy. He now has 45 tallies in 40 contests and should hit the 50 mark in the remaining five games. Gerry plays on a line with McGill Law student Cliff Malone, who makes a practice of setting up "Plamie" for his markers. Cliff has rolled up 42 assists so far this season. George Robertson, who came to Canadiens from the Rangers along with Joe Bell and Hal Laycoe for Buddy O'Connor and Frankie Eddolls in a recent trade, pivots Malone and Plamondon on one of the top Royal lines. By the way, this writer picks Royals to go on to the Allan Cup for the second year in succession. Although the Ottawa Senators hold down first place in the Q.S.H.L., this club

With The Observer

The newly-formed Psychology Club at McGill will meet today at 1 p.m. in the Music Room of the Union. The feature of the meeting, besides the business angle, will be a discusssion on the various merits and demerits of Dr. Brock Chisolm's thesis that children should be told the truth at all times, lest they develop feelings of inferiority and misconceptions. All interested students are invited to attend.

Oscar Roy, city organizer of the L.P.P. (French section) will address an open meeting of theMcGill L.P.P. Club today at 1 p.m. in the New Room of the Union. Subject of the talk will be the "Padlock Law."

Attention all choristers of McGill Choral Society. Special practice of "Phaudrig Crohoore" will be held today in Divinity Hall at five. Please make an effort to attend in order to get this piece down pat.

Innovation at Club Hispanico

For the first time this year the Club Hispanico is sponsoring a special linguaphone meeting for the benefit of the 1st and 2nd year Spanish students. This meeting will take place tonight at 8:00 p.m. in the Board Room of the McGill Union. Records in Spanish will be played and there will be someone in charge to supervise the practice which promises to be very interesting.

The McGill Franklin Society (formerly the McGill Arctic Club) will meet today at 8:15 p.m. in the Arctic Institute to hear a talk by J. J. O'Neill, Dean of Engineering, on the Arctic Expedition of 1913-1918.

The Interfaith Council of McGill University is scheduled to meet tonight at 8:15 p.m. at Hillel House, 3460 Stanley street, where Rabbi Maurice Cohen, of Montreal, will speak on the subject "What is Judaism?" Represented will be members of the S.C.M., the Interfaith Council, Hillel, and the Unitarians. All others are invited to attend.

The Quebec Federation of Youth Movement is holding a press conference this afternoon at 4 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce, 14 St. James street east. The general student body is invited to attend.

SPORTSHOTS

Carnival Queen Sue Bishop is a basketball hotshot . . . Hoop Redmen can finish in a second-place tie with Toronto by beating Queen's in their final intercollegiate tilt while Western triumphs over Varsity . . . George Davidon has 64 points in five games . . . Reggie Sinclair's late-season scoring feats may win him a place on the second intercollegiate all-star outfit . . . Jack Gelineau and Gordie Gosselin are the only Redmen with chances for the first team . . . Ed Kryzanowski and any three of the Toronto quartet of Bark, Henry, Winslow and Hank Boyd would round out a fine squad.

Redmen, Dawson In Floor Hockey Finals

By JACK GOLDWATER.

The long - awaited series between the McGill and Dawson floor hockey champions will take place tonight at Dawson College. The return match will be played at the Currie Gym next Monday night. An added feature of the series, the first tilt of the eve, will be a struggle between the Alkies of McGill and the Dawson All-Stars. Both are two-game total-goal series.

McGill will send two strong teams against the best that Dawson has to offer with the Combines, winner against the Alkies in the gruelling finals, boasting a well-balanced team, meeting the Dawson champion, Moyse Boys. The Alkies, with Harry Leavitt leading them, will prove a stumbling block for the All-Stars.

The Moyse Boys, semi-finalists last year, have overcome all opposition this year to win the crown at Dawson. In Herbie Young they have one of the finest goalers to protect their cage. On the forward lanes are George Koivu, Wally Stetham and George "Killer" Rathwell.

"SHOCKET" SHOCKS 'EM

When the Moyse Boys hit the Combine defence, they will come up against Ted "Shocker" Feinstat. Jack Westbrooke, captain and a proved defenceman, and Ezra Lipshitz, hold down the rest of the defence in front of Dave Deich, the goaler.

Dick Wilson leading scorer in the playoffs for the Combines, will lead the way on the forward line. His scoring punch and backcheking has tagged him as the Maurice Richard of Floor hockey.

Winestone and his Tenor Sax With Metcalf Tuesday Evening

Benny Winestone, one of the most unique tenor sax men in contemporary jazz, will be one of the featured guests next Tuesday night at the Louis Metcalf jam session in the Union Ballroom. The session is under the sponsorship of the McGill Hot Jazz Society, and all proceeds will be donated to the International Students Service European relief campaign. Time is from seven to nine o'clock, and admission will be fifty cents.

Winestone hails originally from Scotland, where he learned his instrument, but he has gained a good deal of his experience on this continent, both in Canada and the United States. At one time he was a member of Benny Goodman's orchestra and for the past couple of years he has been playing with various groups in this country.

Be-bop-Master

At present Benny, who is known as "Yard Bird," a nickname also born by the famous alto - man, Charlie Parker, is a member of Maynard Ferguson's "Danceland" orchestra. He is also a familiar figure at maestro Louis Metcalf's Sunday afternoon jam sessions at the St. Michel Cafe, where he has been "sending" local jazz fans with his masterful Be-Bop technique.

Along with Winestone and the Metcalf band will be other outstanding guest performers. The program will cover various aspects of jazz, according to Metcalf, including swing, Dixieland, the blues, and modern Be-Bop, with emphasis on the last-mentioned. The band is a seven-piece combo, comprising as well as Metcalf's trumpet, Herb Johnson's tenor sax, Dale Davies' bass, Wilkie Wilkinson's drumming, Steep Wade's piano, "Butch" Watanabe's trombone, and Willie Gerard's accomplished hot fiddle.

The Jazz Society announced last night that tickets for the event will be on sale either today or Friday at the Union Tuck Shop. The earlier time of the session, it was announced, was made necessary by the musicians having to be at the St. Michel for their usual nightly stand at 9.30.

Student: He's a nice man, isn't he?

Chem. Prof.: Oh yes, one of the best men we have. That chap dressed in black over there . . . see him? He's in Psychology, a very valuable man. He's working in conjunction with the Physics Department in the study and cure of depressed figures. Fascinating work that. Oh, and that fellow by the table over there . . . the one making obscene gestures at the Reader's Digest and the Saturday Evening Post . . . an English Department lad. They approve of nothing you know. Funny people. See that chap . . .

Student: I think I'll leave now. I've seen quite enough and I don't feel very well. Good night.

Chem. Prof.: (To Dr. Centigram) Those students are ruining the universities these days. If only there was some way of removing them.

Dr. Cent.: Well, I'm working on a project now that should . . .

The opinions expressed below are not those of the Managing Board of the Dawson Weekly, but they make sense anyway.

The Dawson Players are giving the polishing touches to their major production for 1948. The play is George Thurber's hilarious comedy, "The Male Animal." Quite frankly, the cast is doing a marvelous job in both adapting and interpreting the work for the Dawson stage. The acting is good and the stage crew approaches Broadway perfection in regard to sets and props. The play is slated for presentation next week. It is a Dawson job with Dawson sweat behind it, so let's all back it up and get an evening full of good laughs in the bargain.

Social Note . . .

Did you see the gay debonair types at five o'clock in the morning (after the A. & S. dance) strutting about the dining hall in pyjamas and dressing gowns? Their valets were on strike or something . . .

And while I am on the subject, a vote of thanks is due Vic Findlay and his Dawson Key men who did such a swell job that night and morning . . . A tip of the hat to the mess hall for that life-saving coffee; many persons walk the earth today who might have otherwise perished.

Coeds Hear Gen. on Jobs In Industry

By GOLDY WOLOFSKY

The first two Gen nights for coeds was held last night in the common room at R.V.C. About one hundred students attended the meeting, which featured four speakers who hold prominent positions in the field of industry.

Miss Richards, the first speaker, is supervisor of the female staff of the Sun Life Assurance Company, and she discussed the various kinds of personnel work, the opportunities for entering them, and the qualifications required.

Secretarial work, its advantages and disadvantages, was discussed by the next speaker, Miss S. Stockwell, who is secretary to the Assistant Vice-President in charge of Labor Relations at the Bell Telephone Company. She stressed the opportunities for advancement, and gave an indication of the salaries to be expected at the various stages.

Miss E. Hamilton, who is the head of Staff Training at the T. Eaton Company, spoke about merchandising, stressing the advantages of the buyer in a large department store, and giving some suggestions for working one's way up to this position.

The last speaker, Miss Irene Kon, who is in advertising, discussed the various types of jobs in this field. She stressed that it is the aggressive person, one who can work under pressure, who will succeed in advertising, with its constant threat of approaching deadlines.

The meeting was sponsored by the McGill Alumnae Society, which is presenting a second similar one next Tuesday evening, featuring four more career women, who will describe their jobs and the opportunities in their chosen professions.

L.P.P. Open Meeting Today on Padlock Law

"Duplessis' Padlock Law" will again be the subject of the McGill L.P.P. Club's open meeting today at 1 p.m. in the New Room of the Union. This meeting will follow up a discussion of the law which took place last week. Addressing the meeting will be Oscar Roy, Montreal organizer of the L.P.P. (French Section).

Mr. Roy was born in the Eastern Townships of French Canadian parents and spent fourteen years in the mines of Northern Ontario and Quebec.

He has a background of experience with the Labour movement Mr. Roy joined the Labour-Progressive Party in 1943 and within two years was elected full time L.P.P. regional organizer for the Northern Ontario mining district. In October, 1946, at the party's national convention he was elected to the National Committee.

ISS Campaign Is Supported By Toronto U.

H. MILLER

Students at Toronto's Varsity are going "all out" in the current ISS campaign. U of T's objective has been set at $20,000 and many of the faculties have already collected much more than 100 per cent of their goal.

As at McGill, Varsity is asking a minimum of one dollar per student. All those who give this amount or more receive an ISS tag which entitles them to a free week of varied fun and activities. Featured in the ISS week programme are athletic contests between the faculty and the students, novelty dances, amateur shows in which both professors and students participate, and a number of other attractive events.

One of the more novel attractions is the contest to identify an unknown campus personality. "Mr. Mush." Local firms have donated prizes amounting to over one hundred dollars and the price for participation in the contest is a small donation to the ISS.

The International Student Service is a very well known and well respected organization on the Varsity campus and has the wholehearted support of the student body—as campaign returns are already indicating. The McGill committee wishes them the greatest success in their current drive for $20,000.

Com. Banquet Tonight Will Be Year's Last

Tomorrow night at 6.30 P.M. in the Union Grill Room, the Commerce Undergraduate Society will hold its last banquet for this year. The guest speaker will be Miss Jessica Allen, of Montreal. Miss Allen is a woman who can go into almost every city hall across Canada and call the mayor by his first name. And, if she were to try this experiment, the chief magistrate in each case would come right back and call her by her first name, and at the same time probably hand her the keys of his city.

She enjoys this privilege through her rather unique office as executive director of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities. She has been executive director of the C.F.M.M. since 1944.

of developing a closer relationship among its members, who have come from many different countries and who represent our faculties, clubs and societies.

This, I feel, is of vital concern to us all and if we are ever to progress it must be realized that there is for each and every one o definite place in the activities of the Women's Union.

Although specific propositions appear to be essential for a presidential platform this is almost an impossibility as many new and different situations arise from time to time which must be dealt with according to prevailing circumstances.

The greatest need is for further vocational guidance and here the Women's Union could act as a medium between student and faculty and thus help in the solving of typical undergraduate problems.

My sincere thanks to those who nominated me and if elected, I will endeavor to uphold the present high standard of the Women's Union and do my very best to work with you and for you.

Radley—P. 3

of university life, which important, is only one phase of the advantage which McGill has to offer, I shall if elected work towards fuller opportunties for participation in university life by an increasing number of women students.

I should establish a standing publicity committee for all clubs and societies in which the women students take part. This committee would encourage student interest in the club or society and guarantee publicity for all the events planned by these clubs. I shall encourage the round table conferences or representatives from all of these groups at least once a month.

The women's sports have received little if any support from the general student body. They have been winning victories for McGill either intercollegiate or provincial such as the fencing competition, which took place in the past year. They should in the future obtain great recognition and publicity through co-operation with the university authorities, I shall work towards a longer period for registration to eliminate the confusion and crowding encountered every autumn.

I shall work for greater understanding between the Women's Union and residents, non-residents, women veterans and recent high school graduates.

I shall look into certain questions such as bus transportation for students during rush rours and the redecorations of the Arts building common room and the R.V.C. Library, and other problems which will come up during the year which I hope to correct.

There should be teas during the year with the students of all the faculties to meet there and hear their opinions and suggestions.

As representative of the women of this university, I shall study their problems, present their views and further their welfare to the best of my ability.

Platform

I hereby publicly declare that if elected to the Presidency of the McGill Union, I shall unswervingly uphold my published platform by doing my utmost to improve the existing conditions in the Union. As Chairman of the Dates' Committee, I will strive to help coordinate the extra curricular activities of the students for the benefit of all concerned. As an ex officio member of the Students' Council, I shall co-operate in every way possible with the other members and endeavour to bring to expression within the Council, the opinions of the most diversified groups of students on the campus.

POLICY

1—A full investigation and REPORT on the Unions contract with Industrial Foods Co. in view of improving the services provided by the said Company.

2—Rigid enforcement of the Union House Rules to alleviate the existing congestion at noon hour.

3—Closer co-operation with the Women's Union with a view to sponsoring joint social and cultural functions in order that the men may enjoy the Women's Union as much as the women benefit by the men's.

4—Constant vigilance in the ROUTINE ADMINISTRATION of the Union, something which, I believe must be emphasised in the future.

5—To maximise the efficiency of the Union, the following minor low-cost alterations and improvements appear to be of prime importance.

a) Better ventilation system in the kitchen and Grill Room.

b) Scheduled and systematized daily cleaning.

c) Removal of the two phone booths to the right hand corner of the Main Lobby (making them both free), to permit the enlargement of the present Players' Club and NFCUS rooms . . . the latter was formerly the Book Exchange Room.

d) Smaller tables and greater seating capacity in the Grill Room.

e) Increased bridge-playing facilities in the Reading Room to encourage the devotees of that ever increasingly popular sport to use that room for such purposes.

f) Improved accommodation and reallocation of desk space of the major organizations in the basement of the union to achieve the optimum distribution of space.

g) Transformation of the present unused basement store-room into a workshop with the mimeograph machine poster and banner making facilities, etc. for the use of campus organizations thereby saving them trouble and expense.

I do feel that I have endeavored to face the Union situation in a cold realistic way, assuming that large scale alteration programs or the construction of a new Union Building are quite impossible at this time if one considers the financial conditions of the Students' Society. The problem today as I see it is to maximise the benefits to be derived from existing facilities.

only McGill production of its kind.

(5) To continue co-operation with the S.A.C. for the continuance of Athletics Nights, and a great extension of intra-mural sports.

(6). To assist the Debating Society in the continuance and furtherance of their efforts in sponsoring lectures on debating and greater inter-faculty along with maintenance of high standard inter-collegiate debating.

(7) To give assistance and aid if required by the Dawson Council, otherwise, allow them complete financial and administrative freedom. To enforce a motion passed by the Dawson Council requesting tickets for Dawson students to events occurring on the Montreal campus. To attempt placing their Athletics Council on a better financial footing.

(8) To personally give smaller clubs and societies the utmost of assistance and encouragement by settling up a co-ordination committee for their activities.

I would assure all students of my earnestness to work on their behalf.
